

Paula (Myers) Furman (RIP)

by René (Chait) Sidley, Chava Tucazinsky

Paula Myers died before reaching the age of 50.

She contracted breast cancer, and I have never forgotten her saying "I am not asking why me, because why NOT me – someone has to get it"

She was incredibly brave, and suffered a great deal.

I met Paula Myers in the supermarket in Fairmount shortly before she passed away, whilst I was standing in the queue with my husband and saw her in front of us. She was so proud to tell me that despite her background, she had become frum and her sons learned in Yeshivah.

She knew that she was terminally ill, but still spoke with twinkling eyes and retained her delicious giggle; a very brave girl who lifted herself up and ended her life with great credit.
