

Peter Levor

After university I joined Barclays Bank for a while and then the merchant bank - Hill Samuel.

I then opened a motor spares business and have been in the trade ever since.
I am now working for someone and am really fully occupied.

I have three beautiful children all girls and two grand children, also both girls.

I also continued my horse riding career and became a Springbok in 1967. I have now stopped riding but still am very interested in equestrian sports.
